Member Section

I am pleased to announce the launch of the members section @ richardhingley.com. This section is planned to be expanded over the next few months. I want to offer a few different things in there that are not available on the main site. Although at present you don't need a login this will eventually change, more details will follow on eNews. Music obviously plays a large part of the members section but other notable areas are.

- Member news
- Picture galleries
- Original handwritten lyrics
- richardhingley.com merchandise

Videos are now available for the new iPod video format.

All videos in the watch section now can be downloaded already encoded for the new video iPod. These videos can be opened in iTunes and viewed or can be transferred to your video iPod. This new portable video format makes it an ideal way to watch music videos. To access go to the music / watch section and look for the iPod icon then click on the tick to download.

Travelling Man video (rough cut)

I have been talking a lot about the track Travelling Man over the last few weeks and shooting a video for it, this video will take a long time to shoot as it requires quite a lot of world places to make it work, anyway I thought I would do a quick short edit with no effects added yet to give you a feel of what it may look like. Watch out for an appearance in a window in Amsterdam. Click on this link for preview.

A star is born?

During a recent trip to LA I managed to as always shoot some footage for the Travelling Man video which you can see in the Members section , Also I just had to do this for a bit of fun, the wonders of technology.

I will be taking time out in January to try and finish the album now most of the main writing and pre-production is finished. Hopefully I will be looking for a release date around the beginning of April, Actually April 1st is a perfect date for a fool like me.

Blog

A lot of people have been asking me what a blog is, well actually it is a cut down word from web-log which is an online diary. It's really caught on recently where people can easily publish their thoughts to the Internet. My blog is all about this project and my ups and downs in putting it all together. There are some pretty funny and interesting entries on there so don't forget to check it out. To make it easier to access and tell you when there is a new entry I have incorporated an RSS feed, this means if you have a news reader application installed on your computer you can subscribe to it to read the latest entries as they are posted.
